Tents come in a variety of types, styles, and qualities. Pole type tents are available in several styles and require center poles and five feet of perimeter space for staking. Frame tents have no center poles and require less staking. The best tent for your event is determined by both the tent site and application.

Tent Seating Guidelines

Stand-up cocktail	7-10 sq. ft. per person
Buffet dinner	15-17 sq. ft. per person
Wedding	19-24 sq. ft. per person
Cathedral seating	6-8 sq. ft. per person

Keder Trac Frame Tents

Keder Trac Frame Tents are an engineered free-standing, aluminum framework which can be enclosed in your choice of white or clear fabric. The fabric top of your choice slides through channels in the framework to create an unwrinkled, or baggy seal between the fabric and the frame. They are spacious and unobstructed by center poles and therefor can be an efficient use of interior space. They do not require 360 degree staking as constant tension is not required for stability, due to its internal skeleton. They are best suited for locations where staking is difficult due to other abutting obstructions or when ground surfaces are not conducive to staking.

Century Tents

Century tents set the standard for quality and are a leader in the tenting industry. Century tents have large center poles and require full staking in 360 degrees around the tented area. Finished with wood center and side poles these tents offer classic elegance.
